

Disabled People and the Human Rights Act Training

This half day course has been developed for organisations in the Public Sector affected by the Human Rights Act. This is by no means limited to public bodies working exclusively with disabled people and encompasses Health, Emergency Services and Local Government.

We provide an overview and a practical, working insight, into where human rights legislation is particularly pertinent to disabled people.

This training will compliment Disability Equality Scheme's and Action Plans

Dates

Location

Trainer Martin Austin; Managing Director

Aims and Objectives

The aim of this course is to provide delegates in the public sector with an understanding of how the Human Rights Act impacts on their service delivery, specially in relation to disabled people

By the end of the course delegates will be able to understand:

Learning outcomes

- a practical model of disability
- An overview of the individual rights afforded by the act
- The practical way in which a number of these are especially relevant to disabled people
- The Public Sectors responsibility under the act
